Certification Corner Highlight

My favorite part of each month is when I compile all of our student certifications for the newsletter. I love seeing familiar names that have earned a new certification and celebrate with those "new names" who have just earned their first. Our team of SSR's, tutors, and support staff is dedicated to helping each of our students appear on this list every month.

It may not seem like a big accomplishment to be listed in the Certification Corner, but I promise you that it is. I know that hundreds of hours of training, studying, and dedication are represented with each certification earned and I want to sincerely congratulate each one of you for being one step closer to accomplishing your goals.

Network+ Resources: The Student Workbook

Any of you who have are or currently training for the Network+ certification know that it is a beast of an exam. Our students work through the video training in OnlineExpert, two different exam simulation programs, and attend a study workshop that is specific to the Network+ exam. One resource that is often missed or not used to its fullest value is the student workbook.

We want to make sure that our students who will be training for Network+ know where to access the workbook and how to get the most out of it. The best use of the workbook is to reinforce the material in the videos. The whole point of the exercises inside is to somewhat mirror the form and function for what will be experienced in the exam and what is to come in an on-the-job situation. Jason Manibog, LearnKey's Senior Instructor and Network+ author, recommends that students watch a block of videos and then stop and do something else: i.e. practice labs and workbook projects. Jason's biggest tip for the Network+ exam is to remember that over a third of the exam deals with troubleshooting. For those questions, students should put themselves in the situation presented. What would YOU do first? That is usually going to be the correct answer. And, make sure you know the troubleshooting theory. I also tell students this: Read the question and then use the answers to figure out what the question is about. This should help eliminate the obvious wrong answers.

In addition to the student workbook we have tutoring sessions and active Facebook and Online forums that allow our students to help each other in learning the material and share tips and tricks that they learned as they prepared for their exams.
